

Have you ever said 'Yes, I'll do that!' then forgotten all about it? Perhaps you were asked to tidy your room and got so angry you shouted, 'No I will not!' You stomped off to your room but thought later, 'I shouldn't have said that.'

So afterwards you went back and quietly did the job you were asked to do. However, maybe you're one of those people who do what they're asked to do when they're asked to do it! Well, good for you.

Jesus asked his listeners, 'Which of these two boys actually obeyed his father?'

They replied, 'Why it was the second boy of course.'
