

When you lose something, you want to find it. You're pleased when you get it back.

You are probably happier about finding a lost toy than you are about all the other toys you have safe and sound in your bedroom.

Jesus told a story about a shepherd who had 100 sheep. However, one of his sheep went missing. He left the other 99 sheep safely in their field and went to look for the lost sheep.

He loved all his sheep but needed to find that one that was lost. He searched and searched.
